1. About the Arts Participation Bursary Award

1.1 Objectives and priorities of the award

The objective of the Arts Participation Bursary Award is to support individual professional artists working in any artform to develop their participatory, collaborative, community and socially engaged arts practice.

You can use this bursary to spend time:

- Working at your practice, including critical reflection and evaluation
- Researching, thinking about or developing a new idea for future dissemination. This may include working with a mentor, potential partners, other artists or arts professionals
- Developing or learning new skills related to your practice.

You can also use this bursary to:

- Undertake a short period of training such as master classes or other professional training opportunities (whether national or international)
- Purchase a limited amount of equipment and materials to assist with the development of your practice. Note: This can be no more than 15% of the value of the overall request for support.
- Do a combination of any of the activities above.

Your proposal should clearly outline:

- Which aspects of your practice that you plan to focus on and explore
- Why an award at this time would facilitate significant development in your participatory arts practice

- How you will plan the timeline of your proposal's activities to achieve your goals.

Note: The primary focus of the Arts Participation Bursary Award is on the artist and the exploration and development of the applicant's own individual artistic practice.

You can include participatory and collaborative arts elements in your proposal. However, delivering a project is not the focus of a Bursary Award.

Strategic priorities

The priorities of this award align with the priorities of the Arts Council's ten-year strategy \(2016–25\).

1.2 Changes to round 1 of the Arts Participation Bursary Award 2025

There are no changes to this round of the Arts Participation Bursary Award.

We used plain English guidelines to update the Arts Participation Bursary Award documents.

1.3 Who can apply?

This award is open to professional artists who are resident in the Republic of Ireland.

However, we may accept applications from outside the Republic of Ireland. In this case, you must detail in your application form how your proposal would benefit the arts in the Republic of Ireland. We would need to be satisfied with your explanation.

Arts Participation Bursary Award 2025: Guidelines for Applicants

A professional artist is someone who:

- Actively pursues a career as an artist in any artform
- Considers their arts practice to be their main profession or career. This applies even if their work in the arts is not their main source of income or they have other employment.
- Is recognised by their peers as a professional practising artist.

You can apply for this bursary if you:

- Have a track record of working collaboratively to make art with individuals and groups that are not arts professionals
- Work in any of the following contexts:
 - Health
 - Disability
 - Cultural diversity
 - Creative ageing
 - Community development
 - Other communities of place or interest.
- Demonstrate clear artistic vision and commitment to artistic outcomes in your work, alongside any other goals such as inclusion, well-being and community development
- Ensure quality of engagement in your work – for example, in the development, planning, making, presentation and evaluation of work.

Bursary rounds

There is one round of the Arts Participation Bursary Award in 2025.

Note about equality, diversity and inclusion

As part of our Equality, Diversity and Inclusion \(EDI\) Policy, we encourage applications from of all areas of the community.

This includes, but is not limited to, any of the characteristics in the list below. It also includes initiatives that deliver equitable opportunities or outcomes for everyone involved.

- Gender
- Sexual orientation
- Civil or family status
- Religion
- Age
- Disability
- Race
- Membership of the Traveller community
- Socio-economic background

We particularly welcome applications that are representative of the diversity of Irish society.

1.4 Who cannot apply?

We won't be able to accept your application if you are:

- An organisation
- Not a professional artist who is proposing to develop your individual arts practice – for example, creative products, curators, arts managers and other arts professions
- A full-time undergraduate student (including foundation courses)
- Looking for support towards fees for postgraduate/higher education or study (including unaccredited courses)
- Looking for support towards work you're doing as part of a formal course, internship or volunteer work
- If you are in full-time employment, you must be seeking time away from employment to work on your practice, and how you plan to approach this should be outlined in your application
- Not resident in the Republic of Ireland (see 1.3 Who can apply? for exceptions to this)
- An Aosdána member in receipt of a Cnuas.

We also cannot accept your application if your proposal:

- Has a primary focus on therapeutic or clinical outcomes
- Involves a focus on young people, unless there is a specific focus on intergenerational arts practice.

You cannot apply for more than one Bursary Award in any one round of funding. For example, you can't apply for an Arts Participation Bursary Award and a Theatre Bursary Award in the same round.

1.5 How much can you apply for?

You can apply for any amount between €5,000 and €20,000.

You can't apply for amounts below €5,000 or above €20,000. If you do, your application will be ineligible and we won't assess it.

However, artists with disabilities can include additional access costs in their application. This is separate from the amount that you request for your proposal.

Enter the amount that you want to apply for in section 3 of the application form.

This bursary is a one-year award. It is not a multi-annual award.

Note about paying yourself

The emphasis of this award is on “buying time” for your arts practice.

The amount that you request should include what you want to pay yourself for the time you spend to develop your practice. This can be up to 100% of the award.

You should pay yourself appropriately. Make sure that you ask for enough to achieve your objectives.

The amount that you pay yourself should also be appropriate for the standard conditions in your area of arts practice.

Arts Participation Bursary Award 2025: Guidelines for Applicants

Note about other costs

This award also allows you to include other costs that may support you to develop your practice. For example:

- Appropriate fees for the time that any mentors or collaborators give you while working with you on the activities in your application
- Costs for materials that are critical to the development of your practices. These materials must be clearly linked to the purpose of “buying time”. These costs can be up to 15% of the total amount that you request.

Disability access costs for artists or participants with disabilities

The Arts Council is committed to making our funding programmes and the work we fund accessible to everyone.

The Arts Council takes the description of disability from Article 1 of the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, which states:

“Persons with disabilities include those who have long-term physical, mental, intellectual or sensory impairments which, in interaction with various barriers, may hinder their full and effective participation in society on an equal basis with others.”

You can include disability access costs within your application. There are two types that you can apply for.

1. Participant or personal disability access costs

These supports should remove barriers for artists or participants with disabilities who are delivering your proposal. For example:

- You
- The main artists, individuals, groups or organisations involved in your proposal
- Partners or collaborators
- Production staff
- Core staff or key administrative personnel.

Examples of support may include:

- An ISL interpreter for a participant or participants
- Services of an access support worker
- Additional rehearsal or studio time.

Note: You can apply for these participant and personal disability access costs in addition to the maximum amount available for the award.

2. Audience disability access costs – costs for making your work accessible to others

These are costs for making your work accessible to persons with disabilities and should be considered a normal part of your work. We want to ensure that more people enjoy high-quality arts experiences and that everyone can access and enjoy the work we fund.

Examples of access costs to make your work accessible to your audience may include:

- Having an ISL interpreter for your event or performance
- Using an audio-description service
- Making your website compatible with screen readers
- Producing exhibition materials in other formats such as Braille or audio.

Arts Participation Bursary Award 2025: Guidelines for Applicants

Note: You should include audience disability access costs in the total amount that you request. They must be within the maximum amount available for the award.

What if the funding I'm offered is less than I requested?

If you're offered funding that is less than you requested, we will discuss with you how you plan to deliver your proposed activity.

How to apply for disability access costs

We need to understand why you're applying for disability access costs and how they meet the needs of your participants or your audience.

If you include disability access costs in your proposal, you must show the costs in two separate lines in the application form.

- A line for personal or participant disability access costs only
- A line for audience disability access costs only

You must also upload a document listing these costs with your supporting material. If you're applying for both personal disability access costs and audience disability access costs, you must include a document for each type.

1.6 What are your chances of receiving support?

This is an extremely competitive award. We receive many more applications than it's possible for us to fund.

If your application is successful, we will try to provide you with the full amount of funding that you've requested.

However, we reserve the right to offer you a lower amount if your proposal is feasible at a reduced scale.

1.7 Costs that you cannot apply for

You cannot apply for:

- Costs that do not fit the purpose of the award
- Capital requests for purchasing equipment or improvements to workspaces
- Subscriptions that are unrelated to this proposal. This includes ongoing software licenses.
- Membership fees.

1.8 Activities that you cannot apply for

You cannot apply for:

- Activities that do not fit the purpose of the award
- Activities that are better suited to another Arts Council award
- Activities that are better suited for support from another government agency or public agency. Some examples include Culture Ireland, Screen Ireland and third-level institutions.
- Non-artistic activities, such as academic activities
- Activities that you've already completed
- Activities that you will have started before we make a decision on your application (learn more about decisions in 5. After you apply – what happens next)
- Activities by registered charities that are for fundraising for other organisations

Arts Participation Bursary Award 2025: Guidelines for Applicants

- Activities that are for participating in a competition
- Activities that are for profit-making.

You cannot apply for activities that the Arts Council has already assessed unless you can demonstrate that you have significantly developed the proposal.

This includes external schemes that are managed on behalf of the Arts Council. Some examples are the Artist in the Community Scheme and the Arts & Disability Connect scheme.

The exception to this is if we have specifically recommended that you redirect your application to this award.

Note: This recommendation is not an indication that the application will receive funding.

1.9 Supporting material that you need to submit

You must include supporting material with your application in addition to your application form. These documents help the person assessing your application to get a clearer understanding of your proposal.

If you do not upload supporting material, your application is incomplete and we cannot assess it. Missing supporting material is the most common reason for ineligible applications.

It's important that you read the information below carefully and that you include the supporting material that we ask for in your application.

Mandatory supporting material for all applicants

- A separate detailed up-to-date CV (three pages maximum), with a clear description of your area of artistic practice and arts participation track record. This may include a statement of artistic practice.
- Up to five examples of your artistic practice.

If you've included other people or organisations in your proposal, you must also submit the following additional supporting material with your application.

- Statements or letters of support from key partners identified in your application that are integral to your proposal, such as participants or group representatives, other artists, mentors, funders and any other partners
- Brief biographies outlining their expertise, accreditations and track records.

Additional material in certain cases

In some cases, you may need to submit some additional supporting material with your application.

Disability access costs

If your application includes disability access costs, you should upload a document listing these costs. If you're applying for both personal disability access costs and audience disability access costs, you should include a document for each type.

Arts Participation Bursary Award 2025: Guidelines for Applicants

Make sure to list your total disability access costs separately in your own budget document.

Learn more about disability access costs for artists or participants with disabilities.

Working with animals

If your proposal involves working with animals, you must provide a copy of your Animal Welfare Protection Policies and Procedures.

Working with children or young people

If your proposal provides cultural, recreational, educational or other services to children or young people under the age of 18, you must have suitable child-protection policies and procedures in place.

- You must indicate that your proposal is relevant to this age group in section 1 of the application form.
- If you answer “Yes” and your application is successful, you must demonstrate that you have suitable child-protection policies and procedures in place.
- You must complete our child-protection self-audit form. You do not need to upload an additional document at this time. If your application is successful, you may need to demonstrate that you have suitable child protection policies and procedures in place.

Working with vulnerable adults

If your proposal involves working with vulnerable adults, you must indicate this in section 1 of the application form.

By doing this, you acknowledge that you adhere to the National Policy & Procedures on Safeguarding Vulnerable Persons at Risk of Abuse.

Note: We may ask you to provide more evidence of adherence to these policies and procedures if your application is successful.

1.10 Eligibility – applications that we won't accept

We will not accept your application in the following situations.

- You did not meet the criteria in 1.3 Who can apply?
- You did not complete all the required parts of the application form.

- You applied for activities or costs that are not covered by this award. See 1.7 Costs that you cannot apply for and 1.8 Activities that you cannot apply for.
- Your application is better suited to another Arts Council award. If this happens, we will direct you to the other award.

Arts Participation Bursary Award 2025: Guidelines for Applicants

- Your application is better suited to another government body or public body.

If your application is ineligible, we will not assess it. In that case, you will be able to apply again with the same proposal to a future funding round.

- Any documentation that you submit must be in this name.
- The bank details and tax details that you submit must also be in this name.

2.4 Checking the software on your computer before applying

You must use a desktop or laptop computer to submit your application. You cannot apply using a mobile phone, tablet or other device.

You need to use Microsoft Word (Desktop) or OpenOffice Writer to complete your application form. Make sure that you have one of these programs installed on your computer.

Using OpenOffice

OpenOffice Writer is free software that you can download from OpenOffice's official download page.

You can learn more about using OpenOffice to complete your application form in this Arts Council video.

You must use OpenOffice Writer version 4.0.1 or earlier.

More recent versions of OpenOffice Writer can alter how our application forms appear when they're submitted through Online Services.

If you have any issues installing or using OpenOffice, contact onlineservices@artscouncil.ie as soon as possible. This is to make sure that we have enough time to help you resolve the issue.

Important notes for Apple Mac users

If you use a Mac with the operating system Mac OS Mojave (10.14) or earlier, the OpenOffice website might tell you that you need to download version 4.1.1 or 4.1.2.

Arts Participation Bursary Award 2025: Guidelines for Applicants

Ignore this recommendation and download 4.0.1 instead.

If you use a Mac with the operating system Mac OS Catalina (10.15) or newer, you won't be able to install OpenOffice 4.0.1. You need to install OpenOffice version 4.1.11 or newer instead.

2.5 Taking time to prepare your application

You should give yourself plenty of time to prepare for submitting your application. This is so that you have enough time to make the best possible application that you can.

Download the application form from your Online Services account as early as possible so that you can get familiar with it.

Make sure to check that:

- You're applying for the right award
- You've downloaded the correct application form
- Your application meets the guidelines in this document
- You have enough time to complete all the application tasks before the deadline.

You should upload your application to the Online Services funding portal at least 48 hours before the deadline.

That way, if you have any technical difficulties, you will have time to contact us to help you.

Note: Online Services often has heavy traffic on the final afternoon of the closing date and your documents may take much longer than usual to upload.

2.6 Preparing your supporting documents

You must include supporting documents with your online application in addition to your application form. This helps the person assessing your application to get a clear understanding of your proposal.

To see exactly what you need to submit, see 1.9 Supporting material that you need to submit.

We will only accept supporting documents that you upload in electronic format to the Online Services funding portal. If you have documents that are not in electronic format, you should scan them and save them so that you can upload them.

You must also submit all your supporting documents in separate files.

Acceptable file formats

Check the table below to see the file formats that you can use as part of an application. You can only submit these file types.

File type	File extension
Text files	.rtf .doc .docx .txt
Image files	.jpg .gif .tiff .png

Arts Participation Bursary Award 2025: Guidelines for Applicants

Sound files	.wav .mp3 .m4a
Video files	.avi .mov .mp4
Spreadsheet files	.xls

Naming your files

It's a good idea to collect all your files in one folder on your computer so that they are easier to upload altogether.

Use filenames that make it clear what your files contain or represent.

It should be clear from the filename whether the document is a CV, a budget sheet or another type of supporting material.

Here are some examples of files with clear filenames for an applicant called Jack Russell:

- Jack Russell - Architecture Bursary application.docx
- Jack Russell - Performance Clip.mp4
- Jack Russell - Personal Disability Access Costs.doc

Note: Do not use the characters " * : < > ? / \ in your filenames.

File size limits

The total combined limit for all the supporting material uploaded with a single application is 40MB.

2.7 Preparing your URL links

To provide us with samples of your work, you can:

- Upload them directly to Online Services
- Use URL links (the full addresses where your material is hosted) to streaming platforms.

If you want to use links, copy the URLs into a Microsoft Word (Desktop), OpenOffice Writer or a PDF document. Then, upload the document in Online Services along with your supporting documents.

Some examples of acceptable sharing platforms include YouTube, Vimeo, SoundCloud and Bandcamp.

We don't accept links to the following sources:

- File-sharing sites such as Google Drive or OneDrive
- Social-media platforms such as Meta or Instagram
- Streaming platforms that limit access to paid subscribers
- Your personal website.

Important: You can only provide samples of work using URLs. You must upload other supporting documents such as CVs or letters of support as files.

Arts Participation Bursary Award 2025: Guidelines for Applicants

Tips for using URL links

- Assessors can only use the materials in the URL links that you provide.
- Make sure to check that any links you submit are working and make sure that they bring the viewer to the correct source.
- Make sure that you set the viewing permissions of your material to “Public”.
- We won’t be able to view materials that are set to “Private”.
- If you want to share a YouTube video with us but you don’t want the video to be public, you can change your video’s privacy setting to “Unlisted”.

3. Completing your application form

Each section of the application form has guidance to help you know what to include. You can also use the tips below to help you answer the questions in the form.

When you answer them, think about:

- Your track record and potential
- How your proposal will help you develop new skills or ideas
- The potential impact of your project (e.g. on an audience or a community)
- How your proposal fits your area of practice
- How workable your proposal is (e.g. if your project can be done within the suggested budget and time frame).

You must complete all the required sections of the application form. If you don't, your application will be ineligible and we can't assess it.

Important: The application form has a special format so that we can extract information from it for assessment.

It's very important that you:

- Type inside the grey boxes in the form
- Do not delete them or type outside them.

If you don't follow this advice, your application form will not upload.

Note: If you don't receive these emails from us, contact us at onlineservices@artscouncil.ie as soon as possible.

For your decision, you'll get:

- An email within 12 to 15 weeks to let you know if your application has not been shortlisted. If your application has been shortlisted, it will go forward for panel review.
- An email within 12 to 15 weeks to tell you if your application has been successful or not.

Note: This time frame depends on the volume of applications that we receive.

5.1 How we make decisions

The Arts Council assesses all eligible applications that we receive. We make decisions on these applications and communicate our decisions to applicants according to our procedures.

Our aim is to make sure that the system for awarding funding is fair and transparent.

We process all applications that we receive as follows:

1. We check the eligibility of the application. All eligible applications progress to the assessment stage.

2. We notify any ineligible applicants by email.
3. In some cases, we may think that the arts area you applied to may not be the best fit for your proposal. In these cases, we will contact you and ask you if you're happy for us to move your application to a more appropriate arts team. You can then choose to move it or leave it as it is.
4. Arts Council staff and advisers assess the eligible applications based on our criteria for assessment and our scoring process.
5. Arts Council staff and advisers recommend some of the applications for shortlisting.
6. A peer panel reviews all shortlisted applications and their associated supporting materials. The panel then scores the applications and makes decisions.
7. We communicate the decisions by email to applicants.
8. The Arts Council board notes the decisions.

The arts team for the award that you selected in Online Services are the primary assessor for your application.

If you also selected other artforms or arts practices in your application form, the primary assessors may ask for assessments from other arts teams.

5.2 How we assess your application

Arts Council awards are competitive. We assess applications in this competitive context. We also consider the available resources that applicants have.

In 2024, 19% of Arts Participation Bursary Award applications were successful. There were 67 applications and 13 applications received funding.

Arts Participation Bursary Award 2025: Guidelines for Applicants

Your application will be assessed based on the following:

- Artistic quality
- How the proposal meets the objectives and priorities of the award
- Feasibility.

Artistic quality

Our assessment of artistic quality focuses on your previous practice as an artist as well as on the nature of the proposal.

This assessment includes:

- Your track record and the potential that you've demonstrated through your application form, your CV and the other supporting materials that you submitted
- The proposed arts activity or activities that you've outlined in your application form
- The practice that you've demonstrated through the supporting materials that you submitted
- The artform/arts practice context that your proposed activity is in
- The ambition, originality and competency that you demonstrated
- If you intend to work with a mentor: the track record of the mentor and quality of the mentorship programme, as demonstrated through the application form, CV and other supporting materials submitted
- If you intend to work with partner organisations: the quality and appropriateness of supports offered by the partner organisations.

Meeting the objectives and priorities of the award

We assess applications on how well they meet the objectives and priorities of the award. See 1.1 Objectives and priorities of the award for more information.

In this assessment, we consider:

- How much your arts practice might benefit from the proposed activity and how it might develop as a result of it
- How much your proposed activity addresses the priorities of the award.

Feasibility

We assess the feasibility of your application based on how you demonstrate your capacity to deliver your proposed activities.

The aspects of feasibility that we assess depend on the strand that you choose.

In this assessment, we consider:

- The feasibility of your proposed timetable or schedule
- The feasibility that the amount of funding you requested is suitable for the nature and duration of the work that you propose
- Where relevant, the availability of other supports/partners that you identified in your application.

5.3 The peer panel process

We use peer panels to include a diversity of expert views in our assessment process.

Arts Participation Bursary Award 2025: Guidelines for Applicants

Peer panels normally consist of at least three external adjudicators. These adjudicators generally have:

- Relevant artform expertise
- Arts practice expertise
- A broad working knowledge and general understanding of the professional arts.

In the case of artforms with smaller numbers of applications, we may convene panels to consider groups of applications at the same panel meeting.

Each peer panel meeting is usually led by an Arts Council member acting as non-voting chair. Arts Council staff and advisers also attend if required. Team members who were involved in the initial assessment of applications are available to the peer panels to provide information if needed.

Panellists have access to all the shortlisted applications and associated materials before the day of the meeting. During the meeting, they review, discuss and score shortlisted applications. They then rank the shortlisted applications by score.

Note: The level of competition for awards is high. The Arts Council can only fund a proportion of the applications that we receive.

Panel scoring process

We ask each panel member to score applications according to the following system:

- A – Must Fund (10 points): The application has fully met the criteria for the award and merits funding to the full amount requested (if possible).

- B – Should Fund (8 points): The application has met the criteria to a sufficient extent to merit funding if the funding scheme has enough budget.
- C – Could Fund (5 points): The application has met the criteria, but to a lesser extent than other applications.
- D – Not a Priority (2 points): The application has not met the criteria well enough to merit funding.

5.4 Declaration of interest

The Arts Council has a Conflict of Interest (Col) Policy to make sure that the assessment process is not unfairly influenced.

To ensure fairness and equity in decision-making, staff members, advisers and panellists must declare a conflict of interest where:

- They have a close personal or professional link with the applicant
- They are linked in any way with the application.

An “interest” can be either “pecuniary” or “non-pecuniary.

- Pecuniary: where a person may stand to gain financially from a decision.
- Non-pecuniary: familial relationships or partnerships, personal friendships, or formal or informal business partnerships, etc.

The staff member, adviser or panellist must declare their interest as soon as they become aware of it.

Arts Participation Bursary Award 2025: Guidelines for Applicants

The Arts Council will ensure the staff member, adviser or panellist is not involved in any aspect of the decision-making process relating to this application.

Declaration of interest of panellists

Panellists must declare the conflict of interest as soon as they become aware of it. This may be at the point when they are approached to sit on the panel (if the interest is known at that stage) or following receipt of the list of applicants.

When a panellist declares a conflict of interest, they will not receive assessment materials relating to that applicant. They will also be required to leave the room when the specific application is being reviewed. The chair will vote instead of the panellist.

In some situations, a panellist may not realise that they have a conflict of interest until they receive and review the assessment material. In these cases the panellist must alert an Arts Council staff member or the panel chair as soon as they become aware of the potential conflict of interest.

If two panellists declare a conflict of interest for the same application, the chair will be part of the decision-making process for that specific application.

If the nominated panel chair has a conflict of interest, they must declare it in writing in advance of the meeting as soon as they become aware of it. In this situation the head of the relevant art team will chair the discussion on the application.

5.5 Next steps if your application is successful

If you're successful, we will email you with an offer.

This offer has the details of the amount of funding we have awarded you and the terms and conditions of the award. You will also receive information about how to draw down your award.

You must accept your offer of funding through your Online Services account.

In a separate email, you will receive the payment guide for this award. This contains instructions on how to accept your offer and how to draw down your funding.

5.6 Next steps if your application is unsuccessful

The Arts Council receives a large volume of applications. Demand for funding always exceeds the resources that we have available.

If your application is not successful, you can request feedback from Arts Council staff.

Note: Complying with our eligibility guidelines and application procedures does not guarantee that you will receive funding.

Applying again with the same activity

If your application is unsuccessful, you can't apply for the same activity for another Arts Council award.

If we feel that your proposal is better suited to a different award, we may make an exception.

In this case, we will contact you.

5.7 Making an appeal

You can appeal against a funding decision if you feel that:

- We did not follow our published procedures for administration and assessment
- We did not apply our published procedures for administration and assessment fairly.

You must be able to show us the reasons for your appeal.
